DEATH OF CASSIUS AUGUR.

Mr. Cassius Augur, a former resident of this city, died suddenly in Baltimore on Wednesday. The funeral took place in that city this afternoon. About forty years ago the deceased conducted a public house on the south side of Prince street near Pitt. The building about ten years previous to that time had been used as the post office. Mr. Augur's home was for several years the resort of many representative men of the city. It was a small structure well patronized and regarded as "Ye Olde Cheshire Cheese" or "Mitre Tavern" of Alexandria. It finally ran its course. A recession set in, many of the regular patrons having died or left the city. Eventually "Ye Olde Augur's" became a recollection only.

Lindsey Gordon is said to be on the verge of nervous prostration following the hard campaign which he recently passed through in endeavoring to secure the democratic nomination for Congress from this district. Y., for a period of rest with a change of climate. It is said that Mr. Gordon entered a similar attack while the campaign was in progress.
